FOUNDERS

WHY?

WHAT IS IT?

Black Lives Matter is a social movement that advocates for the abolition of systemic racism and the protection of Black lives. It was founded in 2013 by three Black women: Opal Tometi, Patrice Cullins, and Alicia Garza. The movement has since grown into a global network of activists and organizations.

WHAT ARE THE GOALS?

The goals of Black Lives Matter include the abolition of systemic racism, the protection of Black lives, and the promotion of social justice. The movement has been instrumental in raising awareness of the issues facing Black people and in pushing for policy changes.
